The Comodo

Bad Gastein, Austria

Nestled in the sleepy Austrian town of Bad Gastein, this mountain escape might just be our new favourite wellness destination. Interiors, by Piotr Wisniewski of WeStudio, see local materials used to create a connection with the nature-rich surrounding landscape - elements of which can be traced through pine-panelled walls and oak flooring. While we love the minimalist bedrooms, we think it's the treatment offerings you'll be most excited about. The Comodo spa will use essential oils alongside Gastein's naturally healing thermal waters to create tailored sessions. Elsewhere, two saunas, an indoor pool and concentrated plant-based power shots are on hand for a proper detox - meet you there for dry Jan.
